Περίληψη Πρόσκλησης:	Expected Outcomes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- To celebrate the successful uptake and use of EU funded project results, thus boosting and promoting their achieved impact.</li><li>- To showcase best practices, create role models and inspire R&amp;I beneficiaries to use their research results to create value for the society at large.</li></ul> The Commission will award on an annual basis a recognition prize to reward beneficiaries that have successfully used their research results to create value for society. The beneficiaries must be able to show proof of effective exploitation and uptake of their research results. This action aims to illustrate the wider socio-economic benefits of the EU investment in R&amp;I and to encourage project beneficiaries to best manage and use their research results. In particular, six winners will be selected by the evaluation jury for their achievements. The prizes are monetary and each of the six winners will receive EUR 25.000. All applicants are required to submit letter(s) of support coming from the user community that can provide testimony on achieved impact. Essential award criteria: The prize will be awarded, after closure of the contest, to the contestant(s) who in the opinion of the jury best addresses the following cumulative criteria: <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Pathway from results to societal benefits: Applicants will need to detail how the R&amp;I results were directly or indirectly exploited after the lifetime of the project. They will need to describe the activities that were done to ensure that the R&amp;I results lead to societal benefits. They will need to describe the scale and the sustainability of their actions.</li><li>2. Achieved impact: Applicants will need to demonstrate the already existing impact and created societal benefits. They will need to detail concrete examples of how their research results have benefitted the society and who are the user communities that have profited from it. The achieved impact must be already materialized. The letter of support will serve as a testimony of the described impact.</li></ol>

Eligibility criteria:

The contest is open to all legal entities (i.e. natural or legal persons, including international organisations) or groups of legal entities that participated as beneficiaries in FP7 or Horizon 2020 [In accordance with the Horizon Europe Rules for participation, due to the specific policy requirements, to the nature and objectives of the action, the type of legal entity is limited]. The projects must have ended by close of the contest [Refers to the end date of the project as in the Grant Agreement]. Natural persons such as ERC principal investigators or MSCA fellows and legal entities principally created by past beneficiaries for the exploitation of the project results, are also eligible.

Applicants that have already received an EU or Euratom prize cannot receive a second prize for the same activities.

Περίληψη Πρόσκλησης:	The "ERA for Health" Partnership will be a leading European initiative for the flexible joint programming of health related research and innovation programmes, effectively involving a wide variety of European funding organisations. This Partnership will be open in particular to public funders of Health research at both national and regional level in the Member States, countries associated to Horizon Europe and to other funders such as philanthropic organisations. Special attention will be placed on engaging with and including many research funders with relatively small budgets. The Partnership will integrate research and innovation areas covered by previous ERANET co-fund actions, Joint Programming Initiatives (JPIs), as well as IICs. It will be composed of two phases. Phase 1 will integrate European initiatives selected as most relevant by the partners and initially implement joint calls on nutrition- and lifestyle-related diseases, cardiovascular diseases and nano-medicine. In parallel, it will test the possibility to carry out joint calls for proposals for R&amp;I activities on IICs. Phase 1 will last for 2 years. After this period, the Horizon Europe Health Programme Committee will decide whether to extend and intensify the focus on IICs. This decision will be based on objective criteria to be specified in the final proposals. They will only affect the focus area and budget of the partnership, not its existence over the 7 years. By the end of Phase 1, all necessary procedures and support should be operational to launch a first call for IICs involving several countries on selected health interventions that address important public health needs. During Phase 2, additional multinational calls for IICs and joint calls for other priority areas will be launched in accordance with the decision of the Health Programme Committee taken at the end of Phase 1 on the focus of the Partnership and the distribution of the budget between IICs and other areas. The Clinical Trials Regulation (EU) 536/2014 will become applicable in January 2022. The overall aim of the new Regulation is to make Europe more attractive for clinical trials. With these changes, the Regulation intends to provide additional support to multinational trials.

As a new concept, it also introduces low-interventional trials (e.g. pragmatic trials to optimise treatment) with risk-proportionate regulatory requirements. This type of trials can also be supported by actions of this partnership.

Προθεσμία Υποβολής:	20/04/2022
Περίληψη Πρόσκλησης:	Expected Outcome Project results are expected to contribute to several of the following expected outcomes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- enhanced scientific competitiveness of European research infrastructures</li><li>- foundations for the development of innovative companies;</li><li>- increase of the technological level of industries through the co-development of advanced technologies for research infrastructures and creation of potential new markets;</li><li>- integration of research infrastructures into local, regional and global innovation systems.</li></ul> Scope: The aim of this topic is to deliver innovative scientific instrumentation, tools and methods, which advance the state-of-art of European RIs, and show transformative potential in RIs operation. The related developments, which underpin the provision of improved and advanced services, should lead research infrastructures to support new areas of research and/or a wider community of users, including industrial users. Cutting-edge technologies will also enhance the potential of RIs to contribute addressing EU policy objectives and socio-economic challenges. Proposals should address all following aspects: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Research and development of new scientific instrumentation, tools and methods for research infrastructures taking into due account resource efficiency (e.g. energy consumption) and environmental (including climate-related) impacts;</li><li>- their technology validation and prototyping;</li><li>- training of RI staff for the operation and use of these new solutions;</li><li>- the innovative potential for industrial exploitation of the solutions and/or for the benefits of the society.</li></ul> Consortia must be built around a leading core of at least 3 world-class research infrastructures, being ESFRI infrastructures, European Research Infrastructures Consortia (ERICs) and/or other world-class research infrastructures of European interest and can include a wider set of RIs.

Other technological partners, including industry and SMEs, should also be involved, thus promoting innovation and knowledge sharing through co-development of new technical solutions for research infrastructures.

In this topic the integration of the gender dimension (sex and gender analysis) in research and innovation content is not a mandatory requirement.
